Baltimore the Puneral of the De-

(From the Providence Journal.) (From the Providence Journal.)

The probability that Greeley would receive the nomination at Baltimore, has been strengthening ever since the Philadelphia Convention, where the unanimity, the enthusiasm and the confidence were so great as to convince the Democratic leaders that they had no hope of success, and that the only way to utilize the strength that remained to them was 40 strade it off to the best customer. This tweet the natural conclusion of men who so great shat they had no hope of success, sad that the only way to utilize the sad that the only way to utilize the sad that the only way to utilize the strength that remained to them was to strede it off to the best customer. This trade it off to the best customer. This was the natural conclusion of men who spects, more thoughtful consideration that states made up, mainly of the means of carrying out certain principle means of carrying out the means of c but to a respectable defeat. Undoubtedly the men who have deserted the Republitions. Anybody can make them; nobody can answer them; and they who can be convinced by them are too weak to hold long to any judgement. But we are certain that the shrewdest politicians in the Republican party have, from the beginning, desired the nomination of Greeley at Baltimore, believing that it would be impossible to carry to his support those of man. It goes down, not in a gallant fight, uprearing its soiled and tattered banner, as long as there is a regiment to rally around it; not sending from that iatal field the message, proud even in de-feat, "all is lost but honor," not with the erable spirit to renew the battle; but speaking in at the back door of the enemy's position and surrendering with-out a blow, and with no conditions but a promise of rations, if the rations hold out. Excellent as this is for the country sirable as it is that the party has exercised so dangerous and corrupt a power over the country, should go down and go down disgracefully, there is something melancholy in such an overthrow, however well it is deserved, however it be for the public good. And the old Democratic party had one virtue; with instinctive knowledge of the popular feeling, it has almost always sustained the national honor in our foreign relations; unrelenting in its evil policy at home, unforgiving in its resentments and unscrupulous in its pur-poes, conservative only of slavery, de-stractive of everything else, fillibustering, arrogant to inferior powers, it did not cringe to strong ones, but generally stood up for the rights of our own government, lowever neglectful of its duties. It cial furnishes the following account of the Greeley mass meeting Monday night: The chief speakers were Col. Harry Gil-more, the John Morgan of Md., Col. E. M., Yerger, who killed Col. Crang and Montgomery Blair. Col. Gilmore spoke of himself as struggling for the liberties of the Southern people, and endeavoring to restore to them those rights which have been so ruhlessly taken from them by the usurpations of a dishonest and ty-rannical administration. He was one of inistration. He was one of But he said he paper, professed to have. But he said he looked further back from the Cincinnati as been named as a can-esidency by the Liberal spring wheat, $8 50@8 75. didate for the Presidency by the Liberal Republicans. Mr. Blair compared Greeley to a man who was mild and gentle, that was determined to whip a bully, and that was determined to whip a bully, and that bully he said, was Gen. Grant; and Mr. Greeley would certainly accomplish his purpose of whipping the bully, Grant, in the coming contest. Greeley cannot be fought, he said, as a Southern sympathiser, or rather a sympathiser with rebels, but as the tribune of the people. Mr. Blair went on at considerable length to ealogise the Democratic party and to lidate for the Pre compass, me said, as a Southern sympatible, or rather a sympathiser with rebeils, but as the tribune of the people. Milled and the people of the cologies the Democratic party and to present Mr. Greeley as the candidate of that party instead of the nominee of the chief manipulators of the Cincinnati Convention has been passing some time of late of the Liberal Republicans. One of the chief manipulators of the Cincinnati Convention has been passing some time of late of the New York, perfecting the necessary machinery for meeting every emergency which has been thought possible at Billimore, and that the plans hald beforehand to force Greeley at Concinnati Verse simplicity. Itself compared with those perfected for Baltimore, and that the west simplicity itself compared with the processible of the three of the concentration of the sun ow regarded by those inside as an absolute impossibility for those among of the prosession of the concentration of the sun ow regarded by those inside as an absolute impossibility for those among of the proposition of the compassion of the compass his defeat. He declared that the Greeley movement had already progressed so har among Democratis that even the Eumocracy itself could not now continue the matter, but that Liberal Republican manipulators could force Greeley through in spite of all the Democratic intriguers who might appear at Baltimore.

From the fact that we have received, with the "compilments of the New Jersey City," a portly penchage headed "Campalga of 1868," and official papers of Governor Randolph, of New Jersey, from January 1869, to January 1879," we suspect that Governor T. F. R. alorosaid would not object to be the candidate for the Vice Presidency of some one of the various parties on the look out for such a man.

(From the Philadelphia Record.) In view of the importance which municipal governments have attained; the magnitude of their debts; the intraste character of the local questions abecure the comfort, prosperity, health and life of millions of people which they are called upon to decide, it is high time that the wisest, purest and best administrative talent should be devoted to the practical management of American cities. They have suffered too long and too grievously from irropant and corrunt local maladfrom ignorant and corrupt local malad ministration and from impertment, inju-dicious and ruinous legislative interier

If there be any sort of consistency in men, there must be a bolt, in each branch of Mr. Grecley's party. These bolts need not be open and organized; but it is impossible to suppose that all the men to whom his nomination acrossly will so stulify themselves. As a state of the control of the control of the right to interfere in municipal affairs. appeals will so stultify themselves as to one of the greatest practical steps to re-form would be the legal stablishment of to which they have been all their life- a system under which the inhabitants of
